Broadmoor Officials May Solve Westlake Transportation

Proposal Made To Reroute Broadmoor Bus To Westlake

Working on the premise that to help others is to help yourself, officials of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association will meet with San Francisco supervisors this week to discuss rerouting of the Broadmoor shuttle bus to Westlake.

Claude Hanrahan, association administrative officer, and George Alexander, director, are slated to talk over the problem with Dewey Mead, supervisors chairman.

The two men will ask Mead to reroute the Broadmoor bus so it will go into Westlake, and from there to the "top of the hill" in Daly City where passengers may take a bus to downtown San Francisco.

Presently Westlake residents must count on the Greyhound and the Ocean Shore line for transportation. Neither has been too satisfactory.

Bus Problem

The San Francisco Public Utility Commission feels it can not justifiably run a bus out of "home territory" into Westlake at the present time. However, the two Broadmoor representatives hope to point out the PUC may increase its revenue on the present shuttle bus by rerouting.

"We believe this would mean better service for Broadmoor," Hanrahan said.

There has been the constant danger that due to lack of funds San Francisco will eliminate the Broadmoor shuttle. With more passengers from Westlake, the Broadmoor officials believe the bus would be running in the black instead of in the red as it has done too often in the past.

Therefore, Broadmoor feels it would be to the mutual advantage of all to run the present bus into Westlake.

But it is still going to be an expensive bit of transportation for home owners. As no transfers are given from the shuttle busses, the round trip fare from San Francisco to Westlake or Broadmoor stands at 60 cents.

New Vet Hospital Set Near Westlake

First steps in the construction of a new 1000-bed, $20,000,000 neuro-psychiatric hospital for veterans, to be located in Fort Funston, were taken in San Francisco this week.

A team of bulldozers moved onto the 120-acre site just north of Westlake on Skyline boulevard and south of Fleishhacker Zoo to commence demolition of 30 underground fortifications, razing of old barracks and clearing of countless trees. Untouched in the clearing job will be the big 16-inch gun emplacements.

When completed the new hospital will be the third of its kind in California. It was authorized in 1946 but not until May of this year was the first contract, for grading, let. The job is being done under a $382,000 contract by Foster and McHarg of Riverside.

WILL YOUR BOY BE THE NEXT TO DROWN? Your son may well be the next boy to go under in the Crocker Hills lake, never to come up again. THE RECORD is working to prevent this disaster. Do what you can through your city and county officials.

EDITORIAL

Will Your Boy Be The Next To Drown?

County officials yesterday announced that steps had been taken to prevent future drownings in the Crocker Hills lake.

They cannot be termed satisfactory.

Sheriff Earl Whitmore told THE RECORD that he deputized a full-time guard—hired by the Crocker estate—early in the week. The guard will patrol the estate to warn off trespassers.

But the extent of the property and location of the little lake that has claimed two victims in the past three months make it virtually impossible for one man to insure that more teen-agers will not die there in the future.

There are thousands of acres of land in the estate, and miles of roads and trails winding through them. Horseback riders—such as Ronald Grimesey, the latest youth to drown—roam at will over the property. The lake itself cannot be seen from the road. It lies at the bottom of a steep canyon, shielded from the road by a heavy growth of trees.

How can one man with all this area to cover protect the unsuspecting swimmer from what has proved to be a death-trap?

The second action precipitated by the drownings was announced yesterday by County Manager Robert Stallings. He reported that by the first of July the county will have its own boat and trailer, ready to be rushed to future drownings.

This measure will enable the prompt and efficient recovery of bodies. A laudable measure, we feel, but one that is apt to be little comfort to the family of the next to die.

It would seem that two deaths at the same place in the short space of three months would be enough to persuade all concerned that half-way measures are not enough.

There are only two possible steps that wil be adequate.

The lake must either be fenced off or drained completely.

Only a strong cyclone fence will prevent entrance to the lake. Draining it will remove all danger.

Until one or the other is done we can expect—soon—a repetition of the recent tragedies.

ACTION TAKEN TO ELIMINATE DANGER OF CROCKER ESTATE'S "DEATH TRAP"

County and Crocker tract officials this week took joint action to eliminate a "death trap" in the hills behind Daly City.

The "trap" is a small irrigation lake which in the past three months has claimed the lives of two 17-year-old San Francisco boys. Both lads where good swimmers but were drowned for reasons still undetermined.

Sheriff Earl Whitmore reported representatives of the Crocker estate contacted him this week and had a man deputized. The new deputy will be on constant vigilance throughout the Crocker estate, Whitmore said.

One difficulty which can not be overcome by a guard cruising in a car is the fact that the lake is hidden from the road. In order to get a proper view of the water a long hike down a steep hill is necessary.

Drainage

Aware of this difficulty, A. J. Young, Crocker tract official, contacted the city Monday. He told City Administrator Dan Andersen his organization wishes to drain the pond. However, in order to do this he must be assured of getting water from the city.

Principal use of the lake is to serve as a source of water for a farm nearby. The farm is leased from the Crocker organization by Laurence Marsili, 38 San Pedro road. Water, pumped from the pond, irrigates Marsili's crops. Should the lake be drained, and no city water made available, the crops would be ruined.

"This property is outside of Daly City, and it would take a special decision by the council to run a pipe up there for the Crocker people's use," Andersen said.

Andersen, however, reported he will take up the matter with the city council Friday.

County Manager Robert E. Stallings said another alternative might be to put a fence around the lake. However, he observed a fence wasn't the ideal thing "as it take more than that to keep kids away from swimming."

"The Crocker people have always been very cooperative, and while this body of water is on private property, I am sure we

July Draft Call Is Upped For Daly City Area; Thirty-Six To Be Called

Thirty-six men will be inducted into the armed services next month from Draft Board 57, which serves the Daly City area, according to Mrs. Virginia Anderson, coordinator of Boards 57 and 58.

The local draftees will be inducted July 30; those from Board 58, which serves the southern portion of the county will leave July 25.

Total number to be taken from the county as a whole is 62—more than double an earlier estimate based on comparative nation-wide figures.

Mrs. Anderson said the draft quotas may have been set high to reach the large numbers of students graduating from college this month.

Council Lets Contract For Park Buildings

Two Appointed To City Posts

By mid-summer Daly City children will be able to use utility buildings in three local parks.

At least this is the hope of the city council today, following the awarding of a contract for the buildings at a special meeting last Monday.

There were four bids, lowest of which was $13,760 by William McIntosh & Sons of San Francisco. Without wasting time, the council made the award on the same evening. The company has 30 days in which to start work, but construction is to get underway shortly.

Largest of the four structures will be on the lower level of Marchbanks park. This will include the conventional rest rooms, and a spacious amount of room for storage and limited recreation.

The other three buildings—at the upper level of Marchbanks, Edgewood and Frankfort, respectively—will be small structures with lavatories and storage room only.

Without the rest rooms, the recreation department has been greatly hindered in development of its summer program. Aware of this, the council showed exceptional speed in the past two months in

Slate Board Meet Tonight

A delegation of city councilmen, led by Mayor Paul Green, will meet with the Jefferson elementary school board this evening, June 19, in an effort to work out means of using at least a portion of the Community Center building for classrooms.

While it was reported in THE RECORD last week that the council was opposed to using the building for school rooms, this decision was modified at a meeting Monday evening.

The mayor will tell the school board they may use rooms in the building "as long as they do not interfere with the building program" aimed at completing the structure.

No one was prepared to say how many rooms could be turned over to the schools, but there probably will be fewer than the four to five decided upon earlier.

The council is faced with the problem of completing the north end of the building, and yet allowing a portion of this very section to be used for classes.

Important

"We feel education is certainly important but on the other hand we must consider how we are to finish the building, if classes are held there during the working hours" an official said today.

Meanwhile, H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, reported this week that unless the Community Center is employed for some classes, the eighth grade will have to go on double session this fall.

"Heretofore, we have managed to keep this very important grade off of double sessions," Weibel said. "We are counting on the Community Center for enough rooms to continue this practice."

W'Lake-Broadmoor Street Completed

Westlake and Broadmoor now have a connecting street.

An extension of Maddux drive was opened for public use this week. This street runs into Broadmoor at 87th street, and into Westlake approximately two blocks south of the Town & Country Shopping Center.

Still undecided after two years is whether or not White street will be cut through to give the two communities more transportation. However, the Jefferson elementary school board is near a decision with the county which will allow construction of this route. Only drawback is that this probably will mean the removal of two homes on 87th street.

Original plans to run a road near the Garden Village school were abandoned when the state refused to grant permission for such a street. The White street connecting route will run from 87th street to the Alemany extension through Westlake.

Former Resident Guilty Of Booking

Jury Returns Verdict Against Ernest Milo

A former resident of Daly City, Ernest Milo, has been found guilty by a superior court jury of two bookmaking violations.

A jury of eight women and four men found the San Mateo butcher guilty of bookmaking and conspiring to make book after four hours of deliberation Tuesday night.

Milo, son of the former operator of a Daly City market, was arrested January 31 by sheriff's officers in a raid on a bookie joint at 1907 Bayshore highway.

Now free on $2,500 cash bail, Milo will appear in superior court Monday on a motion by his at-

FIREWORKS FORBIDDEN IN CITY SAYS CHIEF

Daly City Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy yesterday reminded local residents that City Ordinance No. 201 prohibits the storage, manufacture, selling, discharge, or exploding of fire crackers or explosives of any kind within the city limits of Daly City.

"There have been a number of violations of this ordinance in previous years," said Kennedy, "and we hope this warning will suffice."

If it doesn't, Kennedy added, the violators will make themselves liable to a fine of $300 or three months imprisonment in the city jail, or both.

Ricci-Worth-Baher On Commission

New Police Officials Named Monday

Named to the new Daly City police commission this week by the city council were:

Tony Ricci, 37, 160 Peoria street. Ricci, who has been a resident of Daly City for the past 13 years, is president of the Beer Drivers Union and has been active in local civic and political affairs. He just recently narrowly missed being elected Democratic Committeeman from this area. He is the father of four children.

Possible Tax Hike Is Due

A possible hike in the city tax rate to raise funds for completion of the Community Center building is now under study by the city council, THE RECORD learned today.

Pros and cons of the move will be discussed by the council at a closed meeting this Friday night.

City officials have been exploring means of raising funds by this method for the past week. The idea came to the council from San Bruno where a similar measure was initiated to complete a public building there.

How much, if any, the increase would mean in the present tax rate of $1.29 per $100 assessed valuation still has to be determined. However, one city official believes the average taxpayer would pay no more than $3 to $4 a year additional.

"This idea is purely speculative," the city official said, "and the council has reached no decision one way or another."

Bond Issue

Just last year the council backed an unsuccessful move to pass a second bond issue to complete the Community Center building. While the $150,000 additional bond issue was approved by a majority vote, it failed to get the two-thirds support necessary for passage.

Two months ago the council tentatively set August for a second attempt at passing a bond issue to complete the building. Meanwhile, through tapping the general fund for $25,000 the council has been able to complete the south end of the building. This soon will be opened.

Additional funds are needed for finishing the north section, heating, electrical work, equipment and landscaping.

Whether the full $150,000 for completing the structure could be raised by upping the tax bill still has to be decided.

Open Mind

Councilmen contacted by THE RECORD said they were going into the Friday meeting with an "open mind."

"We have but one purpose, and that is to complete the structure," a councilman said. "However, we wish to do this equitably."

Even after the council has heard the facts concerning a possible tax increase, they have to decide the major question involved in such a move—"Is this for the best interest of the community, and will it meet with the approval of the majority?"

Salary Increase

This problem has delayed approval of the budget, up about 15 per cent over last year, until June 30.

And Friday night, too, the council is expected to give final approval to a proposed pay hike for city employees. The employees asked for a flat $40 a month hike. They will get a 6 per cent increase—the same as given them last year.

This year's tax rate, which is not expected to increase unless for financing the Community Center, will be approved in July.

Action Taken On "Death Trap"

will be able to work something out," Stallings said.

Meeting Set

Stallings declared he plans to meet with Whitmore later this week to take definite action to rid the county of the menace.

Thomas Callan, newly elected supervisor from this district, said he was "shocked" by the drownings.

"While I don't take office until January of next year, I certainly won't hesitate to try to get the supervisors to take immediate action," Callan said.

Meanwhile, Edwin Swayze, 64 North Ridge Road, father of Larry Swayze who drowned in the lake late last March, blamed his son's death upon the irrigation pump in the pond.

"My boy was a good swimmer and that pump probably had something to do with sucking him down into the water," Swayze said. "We've been trying to get something done about that place for the past three months. I hope they drain the lake, before another boy drowns."

Claim Filed

Frank Blum, attorney for Swayze, filed a claim of $20,000 against the county this week on behalf of his client. He is charging the county with negligence which indirectly caused the death of young Swayze.

Also about to take legal action is Harold Brown, attorney for the parents of Ronald Grimesey, 29 Blythdale avenue, who drowned in the lake June 1.

"We've been making an extensive investigation of the drowning and if there is any legal liability, we want to know."

Meanwhile, parents of Daly City and San Francisco want to know only one thing—when is the "death trap" in the Crocker hills going to be eliminated?

setting up the specifications and calling for bids.

Only other business of the adjourned meeting included the naming of Mrs. Juanita Giusti, 6785A Mission street, as stenographic clerk. She will be on a probation period of six months before her final appointment. Mrs. Giusti is now serving as Judge W. J. Sweeney's secretary.

Frank Tardelli, 26 E. Moltke street, was appointed a volunteer fireman. He will serve in Company No. 6.

However, he was eliminated when it was found he had not lived long enough in the city. Worth is well-known as a KCBS writer-producer. He has two daughters.

V. G. Baher, 45, 37 W. Cavour, a resident of Daly City for the last 14 years, Baher is an engineer for Bethlehem Steel. He has four children, and his two twin girls just this month graduated from Our Lady of Perpetual Help School.

The city council will formally appoint the men to the new commission at a regular meeting June 23.

An ordinance creating the police and planning commission will come up for final passage Monday. Both groups will be "legally born" 30 days after the ordinance passes.

(Members of the five-man planning commission will be named some time this month.)

The police, as all the commissions, will meet once a month. Date of these meeting still has to be set.

At the same time the jury found Milo's companion, caught in the raid, guilty of the same charges. He is Fred Mackota, 38, 375 Crescent avenue, San Francisco. Mackota is now awaiting sentence in San Francisco superior court for an admitted bookmaking operation in that city.

ONE HUNDRED ATTEND JEFF SUMMER SCHOOL

Summer school opened at Jefferson Union high school Monday with nearly one hundred students in attendance. This is the first summer session for the local school and was started in answer to requests by many students.

Formerly, students of the Jefferson high school district attended San Francisco or San Mateo summer sessions. These areas, however, announced that they could no longer accept ou-of-district students.

Mr. John Mongan is serving as director of the summer school in addition to teaching American history. Other members of the faculty include: Miss Dorothy Tully, English; Mrs. Marion Kramer, English and remedial reading; Mr. George Hinkle, typing and general mathematics; and Mr. Truman Pfeffer, woodwork.

The summer session is conducted from 8 a.m. until noon, and will last through August 8.

Mrs. Sanford Vickers, Mrs. Roy W. Foster attended a co-ordinating committee, meeting, Monday, June 16.

Propose Expansion Of SMJC District; Study Being Made

Plans are now being formulated to enlarge the jurisdiction of San Mateo Junior college, following announcement of a tentative '52-'53 budget for the college that is $198,137 larger than the current one.

The college district now includes all high school districts in the county with the exceptions of South San Francisco, Sequoia and Pescadero. If the rumored expansion is carried out, those districts and, possibly, Palo Alto will be included.

The first report of a special educational survey on the question was presented to an attentive audience Wednesday evening at the college auditorium.

In a report that included colorful aerial pictures of possible campus sites in the county, Dr. William Odell and Dr. James McConnell of Stanford University previewed the over-all survey yet to be made.

The survey will cover administrative and educational problems as well as campus sites and the scope of the district.

It was emphasized that the Wednesday report is preliminary and that decisions on campus locations, and other problems will be made later on the basis of studies to be made during the survey.

Present at the meeting were representatives of the districts proposed for inclusion, and civic leaders from throughout the county.

Pfc. SPECHT LEAVES FOR AIR TRAINING

Leaving for special air control study at El Torro today, June 19, is Pfc. Ronald Specht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Specht, 64 Guadalupe.

Pfc. Specht has been home for the past two weeks following a seven week intensive training with the marine corps at San Diego.

The young marine attended Jefferson high school, and is well known in Daly City. He reports that during basic training THE RECORD was well read by himself and all his companions. It appears the marines rule out newspapers during basic, but do allow trainees to receive the home town paper through the mail. Anxious to read anything of the "outside world," many of Specht's fellow marines followed Daly City activities through THE RECORD.

Government To Aid Purchase Of Cars For Disabled Vets

Federal funds are now available for grants of up to $1600 toward purchase of automobiles for certain blind or crippled veterans of World War II and Korean emergency duty, Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Office of San Mateo county, reminds ex-servicemen in the area.

He said a federal appropriation enacted earlier this month provides money to be applied to the purchase of automobiles, or other specially adapted vehicles, for World War II and Korean veterans who are entitled to compensation for any of the following service-connected disabilities.

Loss, or permanent loss of the use, of one or both hands; loss, or permanent loss of the use, of one or both feet; complete loss of sight in both eyes, or permanent impairment of vision of both eyes to a degree amounting to total blindness.

To obtain the grant, a veteran must also have a state drivers' license or a qualified person to operate the vehicle for him, Granger point out.

"The Department of Motor Vehicles and the California Highway Patrol carry on special training programs which help handicapped veterans to pass state driving tests," he said. "This assistance has enable many veterans to obtain state drivers' licenses."

Veterans eligible for the new vehicle grant may have it applied to the purchase of one conveyance, including an automobile, jeep, station wagon, tractor or truck, Granger noted.

He added that further information and assistance in applying for the automobile benefite is available at the Veterans Service Office, 517 Marshall street, Redwood City.

A surprise play entitled, "The Death House with Skeletons," was the featured presentation in Mrs. Margaret Herzer's fourth grade class. Songs and games rounded out the program.

The second grade class of Mrs. Jane Watson listened to records and played games. Mrs. Brown's first graders watched the tap dancing of Karen Bradshaw and Geraldine Brooks. Arlene Plansky twirled the baton and Richard Vaznaugh played the comedian.

Among the real small-fry of the school, Miss Jean Watson's kindergarten played musical chairs, games, and enjoyed their refreshments. Miss May Varni's first grade sang songs, tap danced and played games. And last but not least, Mrs. Sally Fackler's first grade had an amatuer hour, sang songs, listened to a recitation and danced.

ways to be a friendly telephone neighbor

If yours is a party-line, your telephone neighbors will consider you a real friend if you'll keep these simple points in mind: Try not to tie up the line with lengthy conversations. That way you won't miss important incoming calls. Ask the youngsters to be considerate, too. When they remember that others may be waiting to use the line they're being good party-line neighbors. Always be sure you hang up properly after calling. These simple suggestions mean still better service . . . because they give every one a better chance to receive and make calls.

emergency calls may arise while you're on the line. If a telephone neighbor breaks in and explains the emergency, it's always thoughtful to hang up and complete your call later.

Daly City Continues To Grow

The phenomenal growth of Daly City was highlighted this week by the revelation that the assessed valuation for our city has jumped almost $3,000,000 in 12 months.

Total assessed valuation for property within our bounds is close to $20,000,000—a goodly amount in anyone's language except the federal government.

Our population is also on the march. Just last year we were pegged at 15,000. A conservative estimate today is 19,000. At this rate, by next June we will be close to 25,000.

Governor Earl Warren estimates close to 5,000 new people are settling in California every day. It appears a proportionate number of these are finding a home in Daly City.

Much credit (and we are working on the premise that it is a credit and desirable to grow from a small town to a city) for our busting at the britches can go to Westlake. Here there is almost one-third of the local populace. In a few years the predominent number of local residents will live in this area.

Henry Doelger, the modern building giant who uses "cats" instead of wishes, is probably the one single person in the community who is responsible for our growth. And the speed and efficiency he is going after other desolate hills to bring forth homes will account for a continued increase in population.

Eventually, too, Broadmoor will become a part of Daly City. This community is rapidly being isolated by the annexation of more and more property around her to Daly City.

Where will it all end? Our guess is when our complete western boundary lines run into the ocean and the northern section of San Bruno.

The days when Daly City was a small town are over. Whether you like it or not, we are beginning to look more and more like "Big Town" every day.

"No Parking" Needed On Knowles

Necessity of eliminating parking on Knowles avenue is becoming more and more evident each day.

The traffic between Westlake and Daly City must count almost exclusively upon this one street for rapid transit.

Under present conditions cars may be parked on both sides of the street, regardless of the rush hours. The one exception is a too short strip at the very "top of the hill."

Failure to eliminate parked cars is going to result in a serious accident one of these days. It is close to impossible for two cars to pass one another when cars are parked on each side of the street.

And while school is out for the summer, the street is a menace during the school season as it borders close to the Woodrow Wilson school.

THE RECORD has continually striven to bring this simple but dangerous condition to the attention of the city. Fortunately we have had the support of local residents. The city council still has "to see the light."

We are convinced the bright beam of truth would dawn upon the councilmen if they would spend but one to two hours on Knowles during the peak hours in the morning or evening.

The city eventually will meet this problem by widening the street. But, in the period between now and the future, how many accidents may occur on Knowles?

The time is long past when the "no parking" sign should be out.

Council Should Reconsider Decision

(Ed Note: Since this editorial has been written, we understand a majority of councilmen met at a closed meeting Monday night and refuted the story they are rejecting the Center for school rooms. This evening, June 19, a representative of the council meets with the school board to determine what part of the building may be employed for classes. Outcome of this meeting will determine to a great extent the future use of the building for classes.)

Decision of the city council last week to rule at the Community Center building for classrooms a poor one, and well worth reconsideration.

The council feels the school rooms would hinder e completion and utilization of the building. ey observe that children in the north end of e structure would work a hardship upon us all.

Certainly, some of this is quite true. Ideally we would welcome a building employed only for recreation. But these are not ideal times. These are times of strife and lack of school facilities. These are times when children who should be spending a full eight hours in school are getting only half an education. These are the times when your child is literally being cheated out of his birthright.

Out of this horrible situation there came a ray of hope two months ago. The Jefferson elementary school board begged the city council to let them use the north end of the Community Center building for five to six desperately needed classrooms. Mind you, this was not the completed half, but the section still needed a great deal of work.

The school board agreed to fix up this north half—now useless for anything but storage space—and rent it from the city.

In a public meeting the council was grave. This would take some consideration. However, they agreed it was a fine idea.

In a closed meeting, which narrowly escaped being reported, the council rejected the classrooms.

The council should be duly proud of itself. It has saved a $350,000 shell of a building for recreation. It has cheated the eight grade students out of a full day's schooling.

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, says the council's decision means that the heretofore full sessions of the eighth grade must give way to the now familiar swing shift.

Now, with few exceptions, all elementary classrooms will be on double sessions next fall.

This is no problem of the city council, or is it?

We think it is a problem; for the council is doing a beautiful job of creating more and more ill will about the building which now stands in tribute to enough blundering.

How can they ever hope to pass a bond issue to complete the center by doing everything in their power to thwart the public will?

Fortunately there is still time for reconsideration.

We ask you, on behalf of your children, to contact your city councilmen to ask them, as one lady asked this week, "Is recreation more important than education?" If they answer "yes," you had best start looking around for new councilmen.

Children May Be Murdered In Daly City

You are going to kill or seriously injure a child this summer.

Your weapon will be more dangerous than a loaded gun, more tortuous than the fondest dreams of a friend.

It is difficult to say when or where this killing will take place. However, chances are it will be on some highway.

You, the killer, are a motorist. Your weapon is your automobile.

Fortunately there is a way out, a means of saving the life of the child whom very well may be your own.

The escape from murder is careful driving. It is not an easy way out, especially for those who love to speed through intersections and take reckless chances on the highway.

A bad driver is probably better off a dead driver, but he often makes the mistake of taking a child with him.

See that you don't make the same mistake. If you want to kill yourself don't use your automobile.

Remember, too, during the summer months children are taking a well deserved vacation. Don't make it a permanent vacation for them.

Daly City police are trying to prevent the murder of your child. Do everything in your power to aid them.

Let us hope you are not a murderer, or your child a victim. Careful driving will make this hope a reality. Careless driving will introduce a funeral.

Goodbye, Blue Monday

A palatable notion to do away with blue Mondays—leastwise in all weeks wherein nationally-observed holidays fall—has just been advanced by the National Association of Travel Organizations.

Their plan is simply to adjust the calendar so as to fix all holidays—save Christmas Day, of course—on a Monday, thus providing more three-day weekends.

We trust the idea clicks with whatever powers set holiday dates. A middle-of-the-week lone holiday gives nobody a chance to really get away from it all, while, in weeks when a holiday chances to fall on Tuesday, the lone work-day sandwiched in between is a Monday as blue as indigo.

Two Local Men Get Stanford Degrees

Two local men and 2408 others received their diplomas Sunday in Stanford University's 61st annual commencement exercises, held in the institution's outdoor Laurence Frost amphitheater.

From Daly City, Robert R. Smith, 48 Abbott avenue, received his degree as a doctor of education. A degree of master of arts from the school of education was presented to George W. Thayer, 727 Larchmont drive, Colma.

Stanford President Wallace Sterling distributed diplomas to 1240 seniors and 1170 graduate students at colorful ceremonies attended by more than 8000 relatives and friends.

The commencement address, "The Independent Spirit," was delivered by Clark Kerr, chancellor-designate of the University of California.

Dr. Albert C. Outler, professor of theology at Southern Methodist University, spoke at baccalaureate services Sunday morning in Stanford Memorial church. His subject was, "Fit To Be Free."

The list of graduate degrees awarded included 500 master of arts, 150 master of sciences, 150 master of business administration, 20 engineer degrees, 56 doctor of education, 103 bachelor of laws, 133 doctor of philosophy, and 54 doctor of medicine.

"Great Distinction" honors were accorded to 62 seniors, the top five per cent of the class. The next 10 per cent, 123 students, received their degrees "With Distinction."

Community Center

"Since When Has Recreation Become More Important Than Education?"

June 13, 1952

The Record, Editor

Dear Sir:

Since when has recreation become more important than education?

I think the Community Center building should be used for classrooms until we have enough schools to assure full time classes for all children. Double sessions are especially bad for children who are slow in learning, since the teacher has no time to give extra help.

We face a vital problem in education which needs to be dealt with NOW.

Sincerely,
Mrs. C. Williams

"Slow Down" Say State Highway Patrol Officials

The California Highway Patrol reminded motorists today that speeding often brings much more tragic results than just the inconvenience of a traffic ticket.

As an illustration, Patrol officials said that during June last year, almost half of California's 239 fatal accidents, which killed 266 persons, involved speed violations.

In the same month, more than 1100 speed violations figured in 5000 other accidents which left 8000 persons injured, some permanently.

While many deaths and injuries were not directly attributed to speed violations, they were due, at least partly, to what the Patrol described as "the urge to get there faster."

San Francisco To Observe Its 176th Birthday

San Francisco, as old as the Nation, will commemorate its 176th birthday with a week-long celebration commencing Monday, June 23.

The tradition of celebrating the city's birthday was initiated by Laura Bride Powers, historian of the California missions, and is carried on each year by a Citizens' Committee appointed by the Mayor.

This year's committee, composed of 16 historial, religious, civic and educational groups, is chairmaned by Dr. A. T. Leonard of the California Historial Society. Supervisor John J. Ferdon is honorary chairman.

Visits to the Presidio and Mission Dolores, the first two establishments founded by Francisco Palou and Jose Moraga on June 29, 1776, are scheduled for the birthday celebration.

Special exhibits are planned by San Francisco museums and the California Historical Society, while on Saturday, June 28, a Mass will be celebrated at Mission Dolores, followed by ceremonies in the ancient garden there. On the same day a luncheon will be held at the Presidio.

The birthday celebration will close Sunday, June 29, with a concert in Golden Gate Park and the laying of a wreath at the statue of Junipero Serra, founder of California's missions.

295 Graduated Last Sunday

San Mateo Junior College brought its spring term to a close Sunday afternoon with a colorful commencement at which 295 graduates were presented diplomas. Twelve scholarships and other awards were made to outstanding students in the class.

The exercises were held in the Woodland theatre in Hillsborough following the class luncheon at the Chukker.

Dr. Eleon E. Hildreth, new president of the college, gave the principal address, speaking on "The Marks of an Educated Man."

U. S. Simonds, Jr., president of the college board, presented the diplomas. He paid high tribute to three members of the college staff who passed away during the college year: President Charles S. Morris, Trustee Charles N. Kirkbride, and Dr. Sam Hepburn, instructor.

The student dance, the soph formal, held at the Hotel Mark Hopkins, the night before graduation, proved a great success, with a large attendance.

Now that the college has closed its spring term, summer activities will get underway. One program now in progress is the college canning center which is busy on cherries at the moment, and which will take up different fruits and vegetables as they come into season. Full information may be obtained from the college office.

The canning center operates to assist the housewives in canning up food for family use in the winter time and operates with a full staff of state licensed operators and instructors.

LIGHT PATTERN COUNTS

The pattern of the light ahead of the car, its shape, is a vital factor in illumination, points out the National Automobile Club. Dirt on the lenses is ruinous to the pattern. That is one reason why they should be kept clean.

Bill Katz . . . FROM A CORNER

Take any innocent looking week, turn on the historical spotlight and you are bound to come up with a pretty interesting bunch of facts. Most men would rather come up with a pretty interesting bunch of bathing beauties, but this is wishful thinking.

Next week, the empty period between Sunday morning and Saturday midnight is chuck full of facinating facts.

Sunday, June 22, was the day the G-I Bill of Rights was signed. Of course, it wasn't actually on a Sunday, but on a Friday in 1944. This may be confusing. That is why Congress signed the G-I Bill of Rights which allowed every G-I to go to school to become less confused. It didn't work out that way except for those ex-soldiers who went to polo school or studied how to stuff frankfurters. They came out alright.

Paper Money

On Monday in 1775, or was it Tuesday, Congress authorized the issuance of the first paper money. This didn't amount to much, although our language became richer for the resounding phrase "Not worth a Continental." Counterfeiters, then out of a job, turned to politics. Everything was phony. Things haven't changed too much.

Sometime this week, only back in 1869, a fellow by name of C. L. Sholes pulled a dirty trick on the men—he patented the typewriter. A few years before, the women had held their first Women's Rights Convention. The typewriter gave them an acceptable way to earn a living.

Complete

But to make things complete it was about this same time that Samuel Colt came on the market with a revolver. Soon typewriting women were shooting up everything and everybody. Those were the days—now the women resort to divorce, a milder but more scandalous means of separation.

Thursday, June 26, is a great day for advertising beer. "Keep a friendly home. Put beer on ice for visitors." It would be simpler to put the visitors on ice. After all, "You eat in comfort when you eat in an air conditioned home."

In The Swim

Speaking of ice, this is "Swim For Health Week." Indicative of an age when everything has to be done for a reason, it is not simply "Swim Because You're Too Lazy To Walk Week," or "Swim For The Heck Of It Week."

All of which makes us wonder why we shouldn't start collecting pictures of waddies. These useful weapons are guaranteed to insure every week is a success. And in case you are wondering what waddies are, waddle down to Australia for a look. Simpler still, refer to the dictionary.

Pardon our subtle trap—but Saturday is National Dictionary Day.

This should prove your week can be interesting, but we'll still take the bathing beauty.

Keith Gardner . . . OFF THE RECORD

This Saturday is the first day of summer and the longest day of the year. There will be a wealth of editorial hubub over this dual occurance, principally because editorial writers have to pontificate about something and Eisenhower has been providing very poor copy of late.

Which brings us, via the back door, to the topic of Eisenhower. Will he win or won't he is not open to much conjecture. The nomination race between Ike and Taft is just a little too close for any but the most rabid partisans to prophecy the outcome.

The question isn't will he win or won't he, but why the devil doesn't he do something?—anything!

Astute political observers—that is, anyone who can read a paper or listen to the radio—awaited the General's return to this country with all the fine expectation of a small boy who has just wired the door-knob for 110 volts.

But someplace along the line we caught a short circuit. Ike's homecoming had all the force and shock effect of a falling feather in a pillow factory. No one, of course, doubts that Ike is a swell fellow, a regular guy, a gentleman.

But the outspoken champion of the people who was going to ride verbal roughshod over his opponents and sweep into office on wave of popular enthusiasm seems to have been a myth. There is still a chance that Eisenhower will come out with some of the strong qualities of leadership, but he missed the big opportunity.

This presents a picture of Caesar camping on the Rubicon and sending a message to his opponent: "Dear Pompey—I feel there are no differences between us that cannot be settled with a sensible gentleman's agreement. Let's get together soon and talk this over intelligently. Yours, J. Caesar."

That may be the way to win friends and influence teachers of political science, but it has very little effect on the electorate.

What we of the electorate look for is a candidate who is not a gentleman and doesn't want to be one. An unreasonable, irascible character with a large vocabulary of epithets, and no compunction against using them.

It's been much too long since a real honest-to-goodness demagogue appeared on the national political scene. If only someone were around who realized the value of a big handful of mud, slung in the general direction of the opposite camp. This could lead to a grand old free-for-all in which the man with the biggest mud-puddle wins.

In the meantime, the voting public would stand peaceably off to one side and gather a great deal of important information which would never be disclosed in the course of a gentlemanly campaign. Also we would be entertained by the spectacle. And what with A-bombs, taxes and so on, there has been a noticeable lack of entertainment for the public these days.

So throw away that Emily Post book, candidates. The Marquis of Queensbury isn't even looking. The umpire is stone blind. Last man in with a kidney blow is a sissy.

Ridgely Cummings . . . HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood has lost a great figure. The Swedish nightingale has put on her walking-sleeping bag and is headed for the watermelon country.

That last sentence is so effulgent and wraps up so neatly the substance of this essay that I want to repeat it: The Swedish nightingale has donned her walking-sleeping bag and is headed for the watermelon country.

There seems to be some mysterious affinity between strange characters and me. The Swedish nightingale is one of the strangest it has been my pleasure to know. And one of the nicest and most beautiful.

I think it will be all right to tell you about her because for the past month or so, when I have shown her various things I've written, she has asked: "When are you going to write an article about me?"

"Never," I used to reply. "You're such a screwball that nobody would believe it anyway."

But she has gone now and I miss her, so I might as well try to capture her on paper.

Swedish nightingale is a nickname some of my friends gave this 23-year-old blonde from Copenhagen. She looks a little older than 23 but that is because, as she told me, she has "and old soul." On the contrary I, who am way past 23, am cursed with "a young soul," she said. By old soul she means that she has passed through many transmigrations and lived many lives in other bodies, while I have not been so fortunate.

My own name for her is Seagull, dating from the period some time back when I was helping her study the feminine lead in Chehkov's play of the same name. "The Seagull" is a sad and beautiful play but I never really appreciated its depth until I heard this beautiful creature reciting the lines in her cute accent.

The Seagull comes of a wealthy Swedish family. Her father is the architect, or one of the architects, who designed the modernistic cooperative apartment houses over there. I won't mention her name here but some day, if she survives the weird wanderlust period she is now enjoying, I expect to see it in lights on the movie marquees. For she has the physical equipment and temperament of a great actress.

The Seagull came to Hollywood three months ago. She came over on the Gripsholm. To give you the idea of the kind of girl she is, she told me that everybody on the Gripsholm thought she was a drunk.

As a matter of fact she doesn't drink alcohol. She has a tremendous joie de vivre and freedom from inhibitions which many people achieve only through a few highballs. But what did most for her reputation was the frequency with which she bought drinks for everybody in the ship's bar.

The way she did that was by engaging in elbow duels with various male passengers, the prize being drinks for the house.

The Seagull is remarkably strong. I'm no weak citizen myself but I lost to her in the elbow duel, and so apparently did the men on the Gripsholm. The way you do it, you and your opponent place elbows on some smooth surface such as a bar and grasp hands. Then at a signal each exerts pressure against the other, the aim being to push over the opponent's arm.

I don't know what the Seagull weighs but she's only about five foot four and quite slender so it can't be much. Her secret is that she's a trained athlete.

The Seagull had studied medicine at the University of Upsala. As soon as she arrived in Hollywood she went through the phone directory and called all the the doctors who had Swedish names. Within a few days she was in business as a physical therapist.

She worked by appointment, under medical supervision, and apparently made a lot of money. Anyway she earned enough to enroll in a fancy dramatic school, which is how she came to be studying Chehkov plays.

Also she made a down payment on a motorcycle. The way that happened was, she got a big kick out of seeing celebrities. I get press passes to various events but don't always go because I don't have a car. So one night I was explaining that we would have to pass up a shindig in Culver City because it was too hard to reach by bus.

The next day she told me, very proudly, about the motorcycle. I marshalled a lot of objections to motorcyles, such as danger and discomfort, but it wasn't until I explained that she couldn't very well wear an evening gown while riding that she gave up the idea.

The Seagull has two evening gowns, one of black velvet and the other a pale blue job with bare shoulders except for one rhinestone strap. She was a knockout in either one but she also had quite a wardrobe of slacks, sweaters, pedal-pushers and other informal attire and the odds were usually at least even that she would show up in sport clothes for a premiere.

Once I took her to an opening night to which she wore the blue gown. With her pale hair, vivid blue eyes and tanned skin she was easily the most beautiful girl there and came in for a lot of appreciative stares. After the play we went backstage and she met the producer, who asked her to try out for his next production.

On the way home I told her she would soon be a star. A few days later she said she had dreamed how she would become a star. She would volunteer for a rocket trip to Mars, she said, and halfway there she would step out into space. Bits of meteors would cluster around her as she whirled round and round in the void and soon she would be large enough to reflect light. Then she would be a real star.

That was the way she talked, with a luminous imagination.

Among the Seagull's eccentricities, a major one was diet. She genuinely and honestly believed that she could learn to live on air.

Sometime in the course of her young but intense life she had come into contact with Yogi-ism. When we first met she ate pretty much like anybody else. Then one weekend she went away to visit some artists who lived in Tujunga Canyon, a rugged mountainous region populated by nature lovers.

When she returned, she was dedicated to a regimen of nuts and fruit.

Now I like nuts and fruit as well as most people, but when I finish eating them I'm still hungry. It used to disappoint the Seagull that I would violate the code by adding a hamburger, which is a major article of diet in Los Angeles, with drive-ins specializing in them at two block intervals and hamburger stands in between.

After a month of fruit and nuts, during which I must admit she looked as vigorous and healthy as ever, the Seagull switched to just plain fruit juice. Nothing else but juices.

She told me in all seriousness that this was a necessary step toward learning to derive sustenance from the atmosphere.

I valued the Seagull's friendship so although I laughed at her I never argued with her, for she was utterly convinced she was correct.

The last time I saw this beautiful little madcap from Sweden, he told me about her walking-sleeping bag. She even drew the design of it for me on a Coffee Dan napkin.

It was a complicated dress with a double skirt. At night it was convertible into a full-length envelope for sleeping under the Death Penalty Demanded For Dope Peddlers

"The death penalty should be invoked for those convicted of pushing narcotics to our children," said Lt. Paul Jensen of the San Mateo County sheriff's office to a meeting of the James L. Snell PTA recently.

"Only then can we hope to suppress this vicious racket," he added. "Remember that these are your children and my children who are being threatened. Only by educating people to the need for more stringent laws can we begin to get at the source."

Jensen was introduced at the meeting by Broadmoor Police Chief Paul Schmidt, who spoke also on narcotics cases which his department has handled.

Jensen said that it was believed that the north end of the county was the source of main supply of narcotics for this area. "It requires constant vigilance on behalf of a very limited staff of narcotics agents to keep the situation in check."

He urged all citizens to be alert for suspicious activities and report them to local police. "Pushers and peddlers can and do operate in our own back yards," he said, "and must be stamped out if we are ever to be free of this menace."

There have been no known recoveries in California from heroin addiction, Jensen went on, and 95 per cent of users of marijuana went on to heroin.

"We cannot consider narcotics a purely local problem. It must be looked at in the light of the national situation. Unless we go clear to the top of this crime, we will never be free from danger," Jensen concluded.

Text: Psalms 23:2 "He leadeth me beside the still waters."

Things that are gentle too seldom awaken our wonder; we tend to be impressed by the rare and the startling. God comes to us in normal, quiet living, but we do not see him out in the hour of sickness, not in the days of health; we turn to him in adversity, not in the peace of prosperity; we hear him in the turbulence of the storm, but do not listen for his voice in the stillness. But God is made known to us best in the quietness of our communion with him.

Religion is not expressed through startling, eye-catching statistics, but through the influence of the closed closet door, the quiet hour, when God's indwelling presence can be felt. Right and truth, the gifts of God's love, constitute real religion, and these work quietly. God is the gentle influences that ever surround us, and in his own words in Holy writ still seeks us in the hour of quietness, "Be still and know that I am God."

Retake Two Youth Who Escaped From Hillcrest

Two local youth, a 15-year-old Daly City boy and a 16-year-old Colma teen-ager were back in Hillcrest juvenile home today after a short and unofficial leave of absence.

The pair walked away from a trash-burning chore last Saturday. They were considered trustees at the time.

They were picked up after six hours of freedom by officer Robert Patterson of the Redwood City police department. Patterson spotted them walking near the intersection of Main and Pennsylvania streets in Redwood City.

They told him that they had been at the home for two months and had grown restless. They were returned to Hillcrest.

EXAMINER BASEBALL TO OPEN AT MARCHBANKS

It won't be long before Daly City teen-agers up to 19 years of age will have an opportunity to receive expert baseball instruction in the San Francisco Examiner's Annual baseball school.

The school will open at Marchbanks field on Thursday, July 3, and will run from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Not only will all the boys receive the expert instruction of Oscar Vitt, Brooks Holder, Bob Fatjo and George Wolfman, free of charge, but the standout stars also will have the opportunity to compete for two free trips to the Hearst -All-United States game in New York City in August.

A San Francisco team will be picked for an all-star game in Seals Stadium, Sunday, July 13. Their Northern California opponents will be chosen upon the conclusion of The Examiner School Tour.

The out-of-town team of 13 players will be brought to San Francisco several days in advance of the game, quartered at a leading downtown hotel, taken on sight-seeing tours, attend special banquets and work out in Seals Stadium.

The two players voted outstanding in the July 13 game by the faculty will represent San Francisco in the New York game. The boys will spend a week in New York.

All players, out-of-towners as well as San Franciscans, are eligible for these prizes.

Although only older boys will be eligible for the all-star game, the school is open to youngsters of all ages.

The Dall sheep, found in Mt. McKinley National Park, are white all the year around.

Jeff High Gets Biggest Yearbook

Jefferson Union high school's yearbook—the "Tom Tom"—was late off the presses this year, but when it finally arrived it came with a bang.

The 106-page volume is the biggest ever to be offered to Jefferson students, reports Ario Gregori, co-editor with Dick Clayberg of this year's issue. Seven hundred and 60 copies were printed with a sale cost of $2.50 per copy.

Printing troubles delayed delivery of the book, says Gregori, and as a consequence a few students have yet to pick up their copies. They will be available next Monday and Tuesday, June 23 and 24.

Financed through proceeds of various student activities, and prepublication sales, the annual cost the students of the school a total of $2900 to publish.

A Halloween dance at the school to raise funds for the book turned out to be a record-breaker, with more tickets sold than for any other Jeff dance.

The book was edited by Gregori and Clayberg with the aid of a staff of 24 students. Mr. Joseph Fulford was adviser to the staff. On behalf of his co-editor and the staff, Gregori wishes to express his thanks to Fulford, Mrs. Harriet Meier and Mrs. Bianca Ratta for their editorial assistance.

Gregori, junior this year, will be a member of next semester's senior class. Clayberg is graduating and will attend the University of California on a scholarship.

Will You Be Dead Or Alive July 5?

Ninety million Americans will go forth on the Fourth—for a holiday or a hollow day.

The National Safety Council estimates that there will be 40,000,000 passenger vehicles on U. S. streets and highways during the three-day weekend and that they will travel 5,000,000,000 miles—enough to circle the world 200,000 times!

The figures only emphasize the tremendous amounts of travel to be expected during the holiday, the Council said. It emphasized that more cars on the road traveling more miles will inevitably mean more accidents — unless there is more caution than usual on the part of the motoring public.

An ominous note already has been sounded this year with the traffic death toll for Memorial Day setting a new record of 360 lives lost in traffic alone.

In an attempt to prevent a holiday of tragedy for hundreds of persons, the Council is conducting again this year a nationwide campaign for a safe Independence Day celebration.

Many national organizations, government officials, police departments and local safety councils are cooperating in the effort.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, appealed to every citizen to do his part in preventing traffic tragedy over the Fourth.

"You as an individual can do something about it," he said, "because these tragedies result from things we can control—haste, selfishness, the desire to show off. Take it easy on the Fourth—be alive on the Fifth."

Make your holiday drive a safety drive, Mr. Dearborn urged, by obeying the following rules:

1. Make sure your car is in safe mechanical condition.
2. Start your trip in plenty of time, so you won't have to hurry.
3. Keep your speed down. Slow up here and show up there.
4. Pass other cars only if there is plenty of room.
5. Stay far enough behind other cars so that you can stop in an emergency.

Runaway Car Hits RECORD Building

Friday the 13th caught up with THE RECORD a few minutes before 5 p.m. when a car belonging to Joseph A. Splan, 28 Shakespeare street, rolled free of its parking spot and crashed into THE RECORD office.

The auto rolled down the broad west sidewalk of Shakespeare stret from its place approximately five houses up from the corner. It hurtled across Junipero Serra boulevard at the height of the home-ward rush hour before it struck the office.

A two-foot hole in the side of the building and a pile of plaster and brick inside, testified to the force of impact.

Splan said he "forgot to use the emergency" when parking the car, and did not know of the accident until a neighbor told him.

On its way down the Shakespeare street sidewalk, the runaway dented the inside fender of a car parked at the corner of Junipero Serra and Shakespeare. The owner, T. R. McCarty, 1023 Mt. Diablo, reported that damage was not serious.

In another runaway accident late this Tuesday, a panel truck driven by Robert Cook, 1619 Revere street, San Francisco, slipped away from its parking place on Tallwood avenue.

The truck rolled down Tallwood and crashed into a home at 358 Hillside boulevard, damaging a garage and basement there.

Daly City police estimated the amount of damage as $3000 to $4000.

Bergstreser Wins Pomona Scholarship

Richard V. Bergstresser, Colma, has received one of 30 scholarships totalling nearly $20,000 awarded by Pomona college to high school graduates from California, Oregon, Montana, Illinois, and South Dakota, it was announced today by J. Edward Sanders, dean of admissions.

Bergstresser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bergstresser, 107 Garden Lane, Colma, was graduated from Jefferson high school, where he was a member of California Scholarship Federation, Boy's State; and a member of the varsity basketball team. He is interested in mathematics and science.

Youngsters Treated For Unusual Meal

James Kennedy, six years old, 301 Crocker avenue, and Kenneth Liberty, six years old, 442 Winchester street, found a can of Drano early Sunday afternoon and sampled the contents.

They were treated at Junipero Serra hospital and sent home with admonitions to take their meals at dinnertime in the future.

LIONS OFFER PRIZES FOR BEST FISH TAKEN ON FREE FISHING DAY

Prizes for the three longest fish caught is the latest announced feature of the Lions club-sponsored free fishing day at Lake Merced, slated for Wednesday, July 16.

More than 150 local youngsters are expected to take part in the angling trek. All that is required is that they sign up at any one of the parks and playgrounds in Daly City or Colma, and bring their own sandwiches.

The Lions will furnish the rest, including additional refreshments, tackle, boats, and transportation. They will pick up the small-fry fishermen at 8 a.m., transport them to the lake, supervise their sport (a Lion will be in each boat) and return them at 2 p.m.

The prizes for longest fish will be suplied by Gamble's Western Auto supply. First prize is a reel, second a rod and third a line.

The Daly City-Colma Lions club is sponsoring the affair in cooperation with the Daly City Rod and Gun club. It is one of the many youth benefit programs throughout the year sponsored by the Lions.

Instead of their regular Wednesday meeting at the Colonial restaurant, the Lions will gather at Lake Merced the day of the trip for a buffet lunch.

THREE-CORNERED PANTS NOW IN FONTANA HOME

Elio Fontana, newest member of the Jefferson high school board of trustees, has a better understanding of the problem facing parents today.

As a matter of fact, so does his wife.

This was brought about by the arrival at Franklin hospital last Saturday at 8:15 a.m. of Mark Elio Fontana. Young Mark, who weighed in at 7 pounds 3½ ounces, gives th eelder Elio his first direct diaper contact with the younger generation.

The Fontana's first child has about 14 years to go before he enters high school. Meanwhile he is going to be concerned more with movement in the Fontana home at 102 Alder, Garden Village.

Local PTA Appoints Two New Delegates

At a meeting last Wednesday of the James L. Snell PTA, Mrs. A. E. Bolander was appointed delegate at large to the coordinating committee of the Jefferson Elementary School district, reports Mrs. George F. Brandt.

Mrs. William Johns also was elected delegate to the Visiting Nurses association for the organization.

The hospitality committee, under Mrs. Raymond Duste, served refreshments.

stars.

The Seagull had nearly finished sewing it and expected to start on her walking tour soon. All she had to do was get rid of her patients. She had stopped taking new ones and apparently was effecting rapid cures on the ones presently under treatment.

She said she was going away to find herself and to decide whether when she came back she would continue her medical studies or concentrate on a dramatic career.

I mentioned I had passes for a weekend show and promised to phone her. She said she would be in the watermelon country by then but I laughed and was so sure she was kidding that I didn't even inquire in which direction lay the watermelons.

But she wasn't kidding after all. Here it is the weekend and a little while ago I phoned and learned she had checked out, leaving her baggage in storage.

So if you see a beautiful blonde girl in an outlandish costume hiking your way, probably it is my little Swedish Seagull on her wanderjahr.

If she were the average sort of girl I'd be worried about her. But unless she runs up against maniacs or gunmen she'll be all right. Among other things she's also a judo expert.

Sarto Club Wins Again; Drops Leslie Salt 7-3

Sarto AC met the Leslie Salt nine last Sunday at Marchbanks field and the Lesliemen went the way of many a Sarto opponent. They lost.

In a free-swinging contest, the local Sarto club swung freer than usual—emerging with seven runs to the Leslie team's three. The Sartomen picked up a total of eight hits on their 34 trips to the plate, and capitalized on all but one of them.

It was another story for the Leslie nine, who came up 33 times grabbed off seven hits, yet managed to bring only three of the home.

Bill Rainey was credited with the win and three hits of his own. He was ably abetted by all of his teammates but Pfender, center fielder, Lunghi, left fielder, and Berteli, first sacker, who failed to connect at the plate.

Mystery Surrounds Child's Death

Officials today are still awaiting results of two autopsies made here last Friday into the death of Phyllis Mary Dale, 4½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dale, 176 Frankfort street.

Mrs. Dale called police at 11:45 a.m. Friday after she was unable to awaken the girl from an "extra long nap." Officers Henry Sunderman said the child was lying face down on the bed, her hands above her head. Her face was a peculiar shade of blue. She was pronounced dead at Junipero Serra hospital.

Dr. Stuart Lindsay called for the second autopsy after a first one failed to establish cause of death. The second was made by Dr. B. Richard Steuhler, a toxologist.

Small fry graduates of the Village Play school, cooperative nursery school in Colma, are looking forward to their entrance into the world of "higher education" kindergarten—this coming fall.

Exercises were held last Friday in the Colma Community Center, which houses the activities of the two-and-a-half to five year olds each week day morning from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m. officially closing the first year in the history of the school.

Diplomas and crowns for the graduates, twelve in all, and refreshments for the undergraduates, was the order of the day.

Parents and the school's director, Mrs. Dorothy Malone, congratulated the students and each other on the completion of a very successful first year.

So successful has the curriculum of supervised play and instruction been that an expansion of the program is presently being planned, and an assistant teacher will be added to the staff in the fall.

Anyone who is interested in working with pre-schoolers and who has had a reasonable amount of experience in the field of child education, should contact Mrs. John L. Azevedo, Plaza 5-5238.

NOTICE TO ALL PROPERTY HOLDERS OF SAN MATEO COUNTY

The County of San Mateo has been directed by the State Board of Equalization to increase the assessed valuation of all property within this County. A similar directive has been issued to other counties in the State where the ratio of assessed value to market value is below the State-wide average.

It is the duty of the State Board of Equalization to keep the assessed values equal between the counties. If the County Assessor does not comply with their directive, the State Board will exercise its constitutional authority and arbitrarily increase the property values to effect equalization between counties. Following a survey of all counties in our State by the State Board, it was revealed that in San Mateo County the ratio of assessed value to market value was one of the lowest in the State.

Therefore, it becomes necessary to increase the assessed value of all property -- land, improvements (buildings), and personal property -- within this County by approximately 50% to equal the State-wide average. This increase is in addition to any changes in real property values caused by alterations, additions, equalization, etc. Accordingly, the assessed values existing on the current Assessment Roll have been increased to equalize with the State average, and new assessments made on the same basis. The changes will be reflected on the 1952-53 Assessment Roll.

The function of the County Assessor is to reveal accurately, completely, and equitably, the taxable resources of the community or jurisdiction which he serves.

The amount of taxes you pay, however, is dependent upon the spending programs and the tax rates adopted by the local boards and - or in some instances by special elections.

County Worker To Address Red Cross National Conclave

Local Red Cross Official Will Speak On Volunteers

Chosen as one of two lay speakers from the entire nation to address the annual convention of the American National Red Cross, June 23-25 in Cleveland, is Elizabeth Mack, vice-chairman of the San Mateo county chapter of the Red Cross.

Because of her work with volunteer workers in the county, Miss Mack will speak on plans for implementing volunteer service participation throughout the country. She was cited for her efforts with volunteers in San Mateo county.

"Red Cross work always has been and always will be carried on largely by volunteers," said Miss Mack. "Paid staff employees being used only to coordinate the efforts of this vast group of faithful workers.

"In the rush of modern life, we are apt to take these people for granted. It is to combate this dangerous attitude that we are striving to integrate our entire volunteer program and accord suitable recognition to those who take part in it."

Her discussion will include suggestions for a more systematic use of volunteers and suitable recognition for their efforts, an insignia to be devised for all volunteers—rather than just for service groups, as was customary in the past.

She will explain steps taken by the San Mateo county chapter in recruiting volunteers, their training and placement, and the annual county awards tea, planned to give proper recognition to their generous donation of time and effort.

Miss Mack will leave for the national convention on June 22.

Construction Down Here Last Month

The carpenter's strike last month cut back the value of construction here to $104,780 as compared to $1,070,148 for May, 1951.

Building Inspector George Hopman reports only 20 building permits were issued last month. Of these 13 went to Callan Co. for construction of five-room homes between 124 and 136 Moltke street and 336 and 372 Abbot avenue. The other seven permits were for various alterations, Hopman said.

Despite the strike, the over-all construction picture for Daly City looks even better than last year. As of June 1 some $3,413,004 of new building and alterations has taken place here. This compares with $2,739,125 for 1951.

Henry Doelger Inc. accounts for close to two thirds of the total for work now being done in Westlake.

Educational TV Programs Closer To A Reality

Viewers To See Training Aids

Educational television programs for both school and home consumption drew nearer to a reality Wednesday, June 11, when members of the Bay Area Educational Television Association convened at Oakland's Moose Club to take final steps in the application for television channel 9.

They unanimously approved the articles of incorporation which will give them legal authority to file papers with the Federal Communications Commissions and to establish a television station for educational purposes. Earlier this year the F. C. C. allocated channel 9 exclusively for education.

A possibility exists for the BAETA to begin operations late this year, Dr. Vaughn D. Seidel, Alameda County Schools superintendent and president of the organization, explained. He quoted a tentative budget of $95,000 for minimum operations the first year. Among the programs outlined for presentation were telecasts assisting parents to understand child development at each grade level, classroom programs on government, industry and current events, adult education programs on the college level, in-service training telecasts for teachers, and forums.

The BAETA consists of representatives from private, public and parochial schools, junior colleges, state colleges and universities throughout the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, Solano, Napa, Sonoma, Marin, San Mateo, Santa Clara and San Joaquin.

SOUTH CITY PLANS FLOOD CONTROL STEPS

Colma creek in South San Francisco was the topic of discussion recently between members of the Women Voters league of the area and South City's mayor, Emilio Cortesi.

Cortesi told some 40 members of the group that "Colma creek has to be taken care of—and fast." He reported that the city spent some $35,000 last year trying to keep the rampaging little stream under control.

Councilmen have held two budget sessions within the past two weeks in an effort to solve the Colma creek problem. Cortesi said they had budgeted $10,000 dollars for flood control last year.

The Colma creek business came up as the women voters organization gathered to hear councilmen Telford Smith and John Noonan explain their plan to hire a city engineer and a city purchasing agent in an effort to streamline South City government.

RECREATION DEPT. LEAGUE PLAY TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK THROUGHOUT CITY

The Daly City Recreation Department's summer recreation program goes into its second week Monday, with a variety of activities offered. Much of this week was taken up with general organization of facilities and sign-ups.

Look for the following next week:

Adult softball league play gets underway Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Jefferson high school diamond. Games will be played every Tuesday and Thursday from then on at the same time. Team schedules will be announced next week in THE RECORD.

Teen-age baseball league play starts Tuesday, with games getting under way at 1:30 p.m.

A baseball clinic for youngsters in the 8 to 11 age bracket will be held every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m. at the high school and at Marchbanks field. A similar clinic will begin at 1:30 p.m. at Frankfort playground, corner of Frankfort and Acton streets.

Monday, the film program opens with a presentation of the movie, "My Friend Flicka," a color motion picture. Admission is free to the movies and showings will begin—in the high school game room—at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m., and at Bellevue hall at 2:30 p.m.

The same film will be shown at the Westlake school, Room 9, at 10 a.m. on Tuesday.

Special event on the recreational slate for next week is a beach party scheduled for Wednesday, June 25, at Thornton Beach. Youngsters eight years old and over may sign up at any playground in the Daly City area.

The next day, Thursday, the Daly City Fire department is sponsoring and supervising a fishing day at Lake Merced. The small fry, whether they have their own fishing tackle or not, should sign up at Firehouse No. 2, located on Parkview avenue.

Archery—bows and arrows and stuff—classes are offered at the high school every Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

Folk dancing, badminton and tennis will start on Tuesday, July 1, at the Jefferson high playground.

The arts and crafts program opens at 101 Parkview (until the 225 Vista Grande building is repaired). It will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, and at Jefferson elementary school on the afternoons of the same days.

Crocker school will also house an arts and crafts school on Tuesand Thursdays.

Residents wishing a schedule of activities for Westlake should see Mrs. Alice Bishop, in Room 12 at the Westlake school.

Information on other activities through the city may be obtained from playground directors, or by calling the Recreation department office in the City Hall.

Type schedules are available at the Daly City Library and in the Water Department office, as well as at the playgrounds.

WHEN THE NATION'S first women motorcycle speed races are held next Saturday night in Belmont Speedway, these two young ladies are expected to be strong contenders for championship honors in the historic sports event. Both Mrs. Jean Feenan (left), Missouri born and riding for the Richmond Rambiers, and Ruby Russell of Redwood City, are just 22 years old but experienced bike riders. Jean is the mother of three small children. Ten events, over the same distances regularly raced by the men riders ar scheduled for th girl contestants starting at 8:30 p.m.

Urge Signup For Fire Department Sponsored Fishing

Next Thursday, June 26, is the big day for youngsters under 14 years, with a yen to get in a little trout fishing. The Daly City Fire Department is sponsoring a free fishing day at Lake Merced at that time for all who wish to sign up.

All the small-fry anglers have to do is sign up at the Company No. 2 firehouse, located at the corner of Parkview and Santa Barbara avenues, and be ready to leave the fire house at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Tackle will be provided for those who do not have suitable trout fisihng equipment of their own. However, those who do are asked to use their own and allow a less fortunate fisherman to use the fire department's tackle.

The youngsters should bring their own lunch and be prepared for a full day's fishing. The firemen will conduct them to the lake at 8 a.m. and bring them back at 3 p.m. Firemen and members of the Daly City Sportsmen will remain to supervise throughout the day.

Fishing instructions will be offered by such crack anglers as A. J. Bodien, A. Sundstrom, F. Bertetta and Ed Goldkuhl. The prospective anglers are asked to sign up as soon as possible so that transportation arrangements can be made.

A wallet containing approximately $20 was stolen from Miss Patricia Austring's purse late Saturday afternoon while it lay on the front seat of her car, parked in front of the Austring residence at 674 Templeton avenue, Daly City.

No other contents of the purse were stolen. The theft was reported to Daly City police at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Only a few breeding pairs of trumpeter swans were known to remain in North America by 1929.

HUNDRED-DOLLAR FISH WAITS FOR ANGLERS

Treat every plastic disc found on a California salmon as if it were a $100 bill.

That's the advice issued today by the State Department of Fish and Game and the San Francisco Tyee Club. The sportmen's group has upped the top reward for return of a secretly-recorded tag number from $50 to $100.

Under the cooperatve program of the two groups, salmon anglers are eligible for an outstanding total of more than $1,000 in unclaimed tag rewards accruing for the last three years. During 1952, one new $100 reward, two of $50, five of $10 and twenty of $5 each will be added to the kitty.

Twenty-Year-Old Duck Provides Hearty Meal

A duck banded 20 years ago was shot by a California hunter during last year's late hunting season and proved to be the oldest leg band return on state records.

"It tasted good, too," reports surprised hunter James P. Gormley of Vallejo, "at least none of my dinner guests put up a squawk the night we ate it."

The female pintail was given a metal leg band by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service at Ellinwood, Kanasa, on March 1, 1932. Gormley bagged it near Sacramento on December 15, last year.

Appropriately, Hunter Gormley was using an old gun, too. It was a 1912 model Remington inherited from his father.

ANGELS NATIONAL FOREST

Angels National Forest, lying mostly in Los Angeles county, is reported by the National Automobile Club to have many miles of hiking and riding trails, fair to good fishing in its streams, usually good hunting outside the game refuge, and many good camp grounds.

Broadmoor Hires Director For Children's Supervised Summer Recreation Program

Broadmoor's recreation season for children gets underway this week supervised by a San Francisco State College student, Elmer Gallegos.

Gallegos was hired for the 10-week job by the Broadmoor Property Owners board of directors at their regular meeting last Thursday. The director will receive $600 for his work.

Beginning this week a recreation program at the Broadmoor Community center, 714 White street, is being worked out by Gallegos.

The field behind the building will be open to children five days a week from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Supervised hours on Saturday will be from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

At this same meeting the directors named two of their fellows, Joe Belli and Vincent Cauchi, as representatives at the regular meeting of the Colma fire department.

Also, the directors called for bids for 47 new trees to be put up in Broadmoor. The trees will replace those destroyed by the winter floods. Bids for the new trees, as well as a bid for maintainance of the trees, will be opened at the next regular board meeting, Belli reported.

Tuna Fishermen Break Own Record For April

The State Department of Fish and Game has reported that commercial fishermen landed a total of 14,100 tons of tuna at California ports during the month of April. The figure is nearly three times larger than the April, 1951, landings.

The monthly total included 10,400 tons of yellowfin, 2,200 tons of skipjack and 1,400 tons of albacore. The marine fisheries laboratory also reported the catch of 168 tons of yellowtail, 3,760 tons of pack mackerel and 20 tons of Pacific mackerel.

Tuna landed for commercial processing amounted to 5,900 tons in 1951, 23,00 tons in 1950, and 13,500 tons in 1949.

VEHICLES ENTERING CALIF.

A total of 264,067 motor vehicles entered California during the month of May, 1952, reports the National Automobile Club. Of this total, 239,428 were passenger cars, 22,233 were commercial trucks, and 2,906 were busses.

Whiskey (Internally) Is A-Bomb Protection

The nation's nippers received a backhanded blow the other day from Navy scientists working on A-bomb protection.

Seems that alcohol—as in whiskey and other forms of snake-bite medicine—lessens the likelihood of death from exposure to atomic radiation.

Working with mice in the navy radiological defense laboratory in San Francisco, the scientists discovered that 84 per cent of mice that got a medium-size dose of the rays survived.

Another group of the mice that got no alcohol but the same amount of exposure died—every last one of them.

Only trouble is that a man who took similar "protective measures" wouldn't need them—the necessary amount of alcohol would kill him.

GOOD CATCHES

Many good catches of barracuda have been made in the waters off Point Loma and La Jolla in San Diego county during the past few days, according to the National Automobile club.

Vince And Fred's Take Pre-Season Tilt From Regals

Locals Optimistic With Five New Men In Action

Coming out of semi-hibernation and back into local baseball play, the Vince and Fred nine met Regal Pale Sunday at Funston field for a little pre-season game. Result?—Vince and Fred 9, Regal Pale 2.

On the mound for the locals was Joe Lewkowitz, leading pitcher for the Jefferson high school diamondmen this past season. Lewkowitz, named to the All Peninsula Athletic League team, showed his form Sunday to the satisfaction of all concerned.

He gave up only three hits throughout the game; walked an equal number, and helped win his own game by a two-run single in the second frame. Vince Voto took over the hurling chores in the seventh inning, but the score remained constant.

The Vince and Fredmen have added a number of new men to their line-up, reports co-sponsor Vince Merlo. Besides Lewkowitz there are Leo Giannecchini, shortstop; Jerry Shaugnessy, second sacker; Earl Clayton and hurler Dave Malehoff.

Giannecchini comes from San Mateo Junior college and is a former Jeff high man. Clayton is expected to turn into one of the best base runners in local play. He holds a conference championship in the 100 and 200-yard dashes, garnered while running for San Francisco State.

Sunday before last, the local boys met New Pisa Restaurant at Marchbanks field. Results weren't as happy as in the recent game. New Pisa dropped them 6-2.

Malehoff was on the mound and was on his way to a no-hitter before the house caved in in the sixth frame. Hero of the game was Neil Pezzola, who slugged himself a circuit clout. Unfortunately, no one was on base at the time.

Beginning this week-end, Sunday afternoons will find the V and F'ers engaged in Northern California Managers Association AA play at Marchbanks field.

With them in the league are Regal Pale, New Pisa, Les Vogel, Leslie Salt, Coper-Varni and the Jesters.

Looks like a busy summer for the baseball fans.

Police Find 17 Parking Meters Broken Here

Person or persons unknown made it clear to local officials late last week that they are not altogether satisfied with the idea of paying money for the privilege of parking their auto in the city.

Daly City police officer John Coleman found 17 parking meters in the 6700 block on Mission street with their glass broken.

No money was taken from the shattered meters.

Jefferson Grads Have Varied Plans

The one hundred fifteen students who graduated from Jefferson Union high school on June 12, have a wide assortment of plans for the future.

A summary of those plans shows the following:

Forty-four students plan to go on to colleges and universities, including: University of California, 7; San Mateo Junior College, 13; San Francisco City College, 4; San Francisco State College, 10; Stanford University, 1; Pamona College, 1; and miscellaneous other schools, 8.

Twenty-six boys and forty girls plan to work, and most have jobs which they obtained with the school's help or on their own initiative.

Three boys plan to enter military service immediately, and one girl admitted an early marriage is her future.

A number of girls are going on to secretarial jobs; one plans to be a nurse, and two have scholarships at a beauty culture school.

One graduate is moving to Guam and another to Ohio, thus scattering the class widely.

Navy Ensign Injured In Skyline Auto Accident

Ensign Edwin H. Vrieze, USN, was treated at Junipero Serra Hospital late Saturday for a fractured jaw and head cuts suffered when his car over-turned on Skyline boulevard south of Highway One.

He was rescued following the accident by Daly City police officer John Coleman, who spotted the topsy-turvy car while passing and stopped to investigate.

Vrieze, stationed at the U. S. Naval Shipyard at Mare Island, received treatment for his fractured jaw and 12 stitches were take nin his head. He said that he was driving south along Skyline at approximately 2 a.m. when his car struck a soft shoulder and unexpectedly overturned.

He was taken to the Mare Island Naval hospital by a companion following treatment at the local hospital.

LOCAL YOUTHS SKIP FROM JUVENILE HOME

Two local teen-agers, a fifteen-year-old Daly City boy and a sixteen-year-old Colma youth, disappeared from the county juvenile home near Belmont shortly before noon Saturday.

San Mateo county sheriff's office announced that an all-points bulletin was being broadcast for the two, who walked away from the home after being put on a trash-burning detail as "trustees."

The pair had been in the home for aproximately two months, said Anthony Lavoi, deputy probation officer, and apparently just became "restless."

The Daly City boy was awaiting assignment to a foster home, while the Colma youth was scheduled to be transferred to the Hanna center on a petty theft charge.

Bowling Champs To Give Exhibit At Brentwood

Bowling champions from six states, including the famed Detroit All-Stars, most powerful pin squad ever to invade the West Coast, will appear in a "Parade of Champions," set for Saturday night, July 5th, at the Brentwood Bowl.

According to Ade Seabock, head of the bowling center, the nation's top-light bowling teams and individual stars will vie in a series of eight exhibition matches across Brentwood's newly resurfaced lanes. The Parade of Champions exhibitions will mark the only Peninsula appearance of the potent Detroit squad.

The visiting Detroit squad measures better than 210 pins per man average, paced by "Buzz" Fazio's present 215 high. Titles are a dime a dozen among the midwesterners. Teaming with the veteran Fazio are Lee Jouglard, 1951's "Bowler of the Year," and a former San Franciscan; Fred Bujack, Bill Bunetta, and Tony Lindemann.

The Detroiters will flash their 1,051 team average against a hand-picked team of local stars including: Kent Rose, "Babe" DeLuca, Bob Wild, "Dusty" Lawhon, and "Skeets" Inouye. They represent the best of Brentwood's high average league bowlers.

Star-studded teams from Denver, Salt Lake, Los Angeles, and Albany, and a special exhibition of Brentwood Junors and Park Bowl kids rounds out the Brentwood championship card.

NEW MEDICAL BLDG. OPENING SCHEDULED

The new Gobar Medical Building, 101 Wellington street, Daly City, will receive its official opening Saturday, June 28, with an open house to be held between 2 and 5 p.m.

More than 2000 local people are expected to throng through the building, which houses the new offices of Dr. Robert F. Gobar, M. D., and Dr. Charles J. Mudrick, M. D.

With more than 1800 square feet of labor space, the newly finished edifice houses eight treatment rooms in addition to stations for nurses. It was constructed by Lyall Ingersoll, Daly City contractor, with utilities installed by a number of local concerns.

Drs. Gobar and Mudrick have been in association in the area for the past year. Dr. Gobar has practiced in Daly City for the last five years.

California mills produced 29,937,000 barrels of portland cement value dat $75,000,000 in 1951.

New Mexico has one hundred and seventy-six acres of gypsum, according to the National Automobile Club.

HARD AND SOFT WATER

Your vacation journey by motor is likely to take you through territory that has a wide range of water, varying from the very hard to the very soft, points out the National Automobile Club. Hard water, it should be born in mind, obtains its hardness from various deposits in it that are likely to leave a scale in the radiator and cooling system. If it is used excessively, have the system drained and flushed at the end of the trip.
